Secret Meeting of Budget Committee Concerning the Supplementary
Budget of Extraordinary War Expenditures - 17 November 1941

The Fifth General Meeting of the Budget Committee
(at 4:48 p.m., the closed session was opened).

CHAIRMAN TOGO: We shall now proceed with the business of the closed session.

State Minister KAYA: I wish to give some additional explanations concerning additions to the budget for extraordinary military expenditures. In the supplementary budget for extraordinary military expenditures RIN No. 1 /TN Extraordinary Budget No. 1/, which has just been proposed, revenues and expenditures are ¥3,800,000,000 each and appropriation of an additional amount is considered necessary at this juncture. As to the reason why this amount came to be considered necessary, explanations shall be given by both the Navy and the War Minister. Adding all expenditures made since November 17, 1937 when payments were made from the second reserve funds of the North China Incident Funds under the jurisdiction of the War Ministry, to the amount approved at the 76th session of the Imperial Diet, the total amount of estimated expenditures for extraordinary war expenditures is more than ¥22,335,000,000.

However, the situation is now such that in order to defray extraordinary military expenses which have especially increased since last summer, towards the end of last October, we finally requested Imperial sanction for the payment of that amount. Moreover, we did not have the time to wait for the opening of the Diet session, and in order to make appropriations for urgent expenses, we requested, on the 1st and 5th of this month, Imperial sanction to make payments in excess of the Budget, totaling more than ¥¥193,000,000 from funds other than the Reserve Fund, the financial sources of which are payments from the General Account, the Second Reserve Fund and the National Treasury surplus into the Special Account for Extraordinary Military Expenditures. At any rate, in regard to this point, I should like to present it to the forthcoming regular session of the Diet and obtain its approval.

Next, in regard to the ¥2,600,000,000, exclusive of the reserve funds, in the estimated expenditures of this draft, like the RIN, No. 1/TN Extraordinary Budget No. 1/ and No. 2 which were approved by the 76th session of the Imperial Diet, it is based on the prevention of espionage. And this sum does not make a distinction between Army or Navy extraordinary military expenditures. It is a lump sum additional appropriation under Item 4, Extraordinary Military Expenditures. However, at this point, speaking in particular about the general Army and Navy classification in regards to the above extraordinary military expenditures of ¥2,600,000,000 we find that the portion which would probably be under the jurisdiction of the War Ministry amounts to ¥1,500,000,000 and that portion which would probably be under the jurisdiction of the Navy Ministry amounts to ¥1,100,000,000.

The above is my explanation given on this occasion. Your understanding is desired.

State Minister TOJO:

I shall give an explanation concerning the subject now under discussion, the Supplementary Budget for Extraordinary Military Expenditures.

The international situation, which has made rapid progress since the outbreak of the Russo-German War in July of this year, not only increased the pressure trying to check the firm national policy of the Empire to secure everlasting peace by establishing a new order in Greater East Asia, but also became a situation which finally violated the security of our existence. However, up to the present, the Army, in order to establish a system able to meet at any time any transitions in the international situation has been carrying out such things as re-inforcing our military forces overseas, promoting aeronautics, air defense and war preparations, gradually shipping strategic materials, and strengthening our domestic defense structure. For example, considering the possibility of an emergency to the north, we dispatched an increased number of necessary troops to KOREA and Manchuria and together with strengthening our air forces, air defenses and war preparations. We have gradually shipped arms, ammunition and other strategic materials to the continent. Moreover, to meet military operations at a moment's notice, we have rapidly executed the strengthening of transportation and communications facilities in MANCHURIA. As for the south, on the basis of the Joint Defense Agreement between JAPAN and FRENCH INDO-CHINA. At the same time, we have carried out the strengthening of harbor and supply depot facilities and others. Furthermore, we have requisitioned an increased number of ships necessary for the transportation of men, horses and materials, and at the same time, in Japan, we are in the midst of executing a mobilization of munitions on a scale larger than ever before in order to manufacture and accumulate newly needed war materials. Also, for the defense of the mainland we have stationed air defense units throughout the country, and have effected necessary preparations for fortress warfare. Thus, the perfection of our defenses is expected.

During this period, various steps with emphasis on armed conflicts have been taken and we are striving day and night for the complete accomplishment of the aims of the Incident in accordance with our established policy, in the settlement of the China Incident.

The expenditures, needed for the establishment of various installations mentioned above have been defrayed by established extraordinary military expenditure funds and others. The additional amount demanded by the Army for extraordinary military expenditures, which was recently submitted totals ¥1,500,000,000. However, as stated above, this is to be appropriated for the cost of maintenance in proportion to the size of the military forces, and for the expenses of further strengthening war preparations, which are to be continued hereafter.

Maintaining harmony between national finance and economy and the livelihood of the people, we have reduced necessary expenses to the very limit permitted by military operations in regards to appropriations for the present supplementary budget. Furthermore, in carrying this out, we intend to make expenditures only on important items and to strive for complete economy. After deliberation your prompt approval is requested.

State Minister SHIMADA: The amount requested by the Navy in the supplementary budget for extraordinary military expenditures now under discussion is, as explained by the Finance Minister ¥ 1,100,000,000. After facing the tense international situation, we have requested that immediately needed expenditures be increased. The contents include expenditures needed for the emergency servicing of ships and small crafts and the fitting and servicing of converted naval vessels, expenditures required for the construction of air bases for specially established defense forces and emergency servicing of supply facilities, expenditures required for the supplying of munitions such as arms, ammunitions, clothings, provisions, and other material, and expenditures required for the maintenance of converted ships and Specially Established Forces, the mobilization of soldiers and sailors and the requisitioning of ships. These are the absolutely urgent and the minimum expenditures of the Navy. Your approval is desired.

Chairman TOGO: This concludes the closed session.
